Mark Powell

Doug Bates

ON OUR COVER:

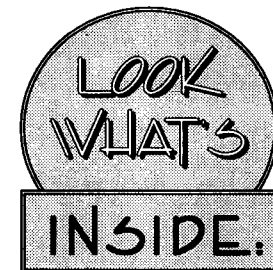

The two bodies which grace our cover belong to two handsome Milwaukee men -- Mark Powell and Doug Bates! Both are models and body-building/nutrition enthusiasts; Bates currently holds the '96-97 Mr. Wisconsin Body Building title and works as a physical fitness consultant and personal trainer at two Milwaukee health clubs, West Allis Athletic Club and Bayview Brickyard Gym. Powell tries to encourage all his HIV+ friends to incorporate exercise in their daily routines along with proper nutrition.

Appearing for February in the Jeff Palmer 1997 "FOCUS" AIDS Benefit Calendar, they auditioned twice in Los Angeles over a six-month period in the selection process. They were featured in the 1996 calendar as well.

A fire almost consumed the entire print run of calendars this year, and caused a delay in the shipping. Fortunately everything was saved.

The calendar has been available in retail outlets in many larger cities throughout the country, but unfortunately not in any of Wisconsin's Gay
Retail outlets. (Hint hint...)

To receive the calendar, please send $13 + $3
shipping/handling to: AIDS Benefit Calendar
(Dept. GB), PO Box 230034, Encinitas, CA
920023-0034.

PAST/OUT

BY DAVID BIANCO

March 1, 1984 (13 years ago): The "palimony" lawsuit against Liberace is thrown out of court.

What were Liberace's legal victories?

Undoubtedly the most flamboyant entertainer of the century, Wladziu Valentino Liberace was also one of the most fiercely closeted. On three separate occasions, the showman hired lawyers to help keep his homosexuality secret, each time defeating those who alleged that he was gay. The entertainer who absolutely reveled in gay stereotypes - from poodles to pink sequins - insisted on a heterosexual facade until the day he died of AIDS just over 10 years ago.

Liberace first went to court to swear to his status as a red-blooded American male in 1956, when a columnist for the London Daily Mirror called him, among other things, a "fruit-flavored, mincing, ice-covered heap of mother love." Liberace sued for damages, and in the trial testified that his bachelor status was only temporary. "I am always looking around for a pretty girl to marry," he said under oath. "I have 12 proposals a month, and on Valentine's Day I got 27,000 Valentines."

This testimony came after more than a decade of sexual liaisons between Liberace and other men. But when Liberace was asked in court about his feelings towards homosexuality, he replied, "My feelings are the same as anyone else, sir. I am against this practice because it offends convention and it offends society."

William Connor, the columnist whose mockery of Liberace had occasioned the lawsuit, defended himself by denying that the column implied that Liberace was gay, even arguing that the words "fruit" and "fairy" only have gay connotations in America, but not in Britain. The jury did not believe him and his publication was forced to pay more than $20,000 in damages. Liberace later wrote that he felt his manhood had been vindicated by the verdict.

A year later, the American scandal-mongering publication Confidential ran a cover story entitled "Why Liberace's Theme Song Should be 'Mad About the Boy.'" Liberace sued, and the parties settled out of court, this time enriching the entertainer and his attorneys by $40,000.

Thirty years later, Liberace once again found himself in court defending himself against an accusation of homosexuality, this time in a "palimony" suit by his former chauffeur and lover, Scott Thorson. Thorson had met Liberace in 1977 when the younger man was 18 and the entertainer was more than three times his age. Liberace had invited a series of good looking, blond young men into his many bedrooms in his many homes, but his relationship with Thorson was longer and by all accounts more devoted.

During their five year relationship, Liberace showered Thorson with hundreds of gifts, investigated the possibility of legally adopting him, and paid for plastic surgery so the younger man could look more like his patron. Thorson's memoir describes Liberace as sexually ravenous, with a fondness for poppers, porno tapes, and multiple sex partners. Toward the end of their relationship, Thorson became increasingly dependent on cocaine, while Liberace increasingly had his eye on other young men.

In March 1982, Thorson was evicted from one of Liberace's apartments and given $75,000 in exchange for waiving future claims. But he soon argued that he had agreed under duress and was entitled to $113 million in damages because Liberace had promised to take care of all Thorson's financial needs in exchange for companionship and sex. Two years later, a Nevada judge threw Thorson's lawsuit out of court by holding that a "money for sex" arrangement was prostitution, which even in Nevada did not entitle Thorson to a permanent share of Liberace's income. Thorson's lawyers refused to drop the matter, though, and in 1986, Liberace agreed to a final payment of $95,000 to end the legal maneuvers.

By that time, Liberace's health had begun to waver from AIDS. Despite an increasingly gaunt appearance, the entertainer played to sold-out crowds in Radio City Music Hall, where he made a grand entrance by flying above the audience on cables. When questioned about Liberace's weight loss, his manager told the press that Liberace was on a "watermelon diet" and was in generally good health. Not until Liberace's coroner held a nationally televised press conference was AIDS revealed as the cause of death, and to this day, some of the devoted elderly women who conduct tours at the Liberace Museum in Las Vegas insist that Liberace's so-called homosexuality and AIDS are nothing but cruel rumors about a talented bachelor.

Liberace's life was replete with contradictions about his sexuality. His autobiography states that he lost his virginity to a female singer in Milwaukee - yet he gives her the classically drag name of "Miss Bea Haven." He would introduce his lover to his audiences as his companion - yet he told the press that gays were trying to "assassinate" him with Thorson's lawsuit. With his extravagant costumes and flaming style, his life can be seen as a befuddled attempt to argue that you don't have to be gay to be campy.

Twin Cities Local Organizations Announce Collaboration

(Special) ---After several years of struggling to make the annual Twin Cities Pride Festival accessible to people with disabilities, Gay-Lesbian-Bisexual-Transgender Pride/Twin Cities (Pride/Twin Cities) Access for Pride (AfP) have announced a new strategy they expect will produce impressive results.

"I'm tremendously excited to be doing this work," said Aaron Lichtov, the new Accessibility Director for GLBT Pride/Twin Cities. "And, I'm grateful for all the groundwork that has been done up to now by Pride/Twin Cities and AfP. There's still a lot of work, but at least we're not starting at square one."

The two organizations will be collaborating on etiquette and accessibility training for all vendors/exhibitors at the 25th Anniversary Twin Cities Pride Festival, June 28 & 29, at Nicollet Island in Minneapolis.

Happy Silver Anniversary, Atons of Minneapolis.

The longest running club in the upper Midwest is the Atons, who this September will be celebrating their twenty-fifth year with an in town run.

The Atons 2nd anniversary run was the very first run I went on. I met Lee at the Great Flood in '86, an Atons run all who attended will vividly recall. Whether in town, on a farm or in a State Park, you can expect to have a great time.

While on the subject of longevity, it has been my experience that clubs with longevity are made up of a cadre of hard working, clear thinking, even opinionated persons who work for the good of the whole.

This is the case with the Atons and the other long running clubs, which include The Argonauts, The Black Guard and The Castaways, all of whom celebrated twenty or more years of continuous service to members and the community.

These are the clubs who attract new members and groom them for leadership, come up with new ideas and get new things done, evolving and fun to be associated with.

Nice turn out for the Oberons club night at The H100 Club on the 8th, according to Tim J. At their last meeting, it was decided to hold a Silent Auction as a fund raiser for Larry Everett, of Tulsa, OK.

Larry, Mr. International Leather 1995/96, hot stud and nice guy, suffered 3rd degree burns in a house fire in which he lost everything. He is recovering with friends and can use much financial support.

Auction items are needed and being solicited from the community; if you can make a contribution, please contact John. 278-0682 or any Oberon member.

By the time you read this, the Brew City Bears bar crawl to Chicago will be over, BUT they are doing their first "official" Bar Night at the Boot Camp. "Door prizes, bears, and the regular after-bar festivities" are happening.

The BEARS is a network of hirsute men, with local clubs like The BCBs, just about everywhere. The Milwaukee-based group generally holds meetings in the afternoon of the first Sunday.

That same nite, Saturday the 15, at the Eagle - Chicago, The Unicorns of Madison will have done a Boot Nite. A couple of us are trying to make this. Once you see that group in action, you only have to hang around to have fun. Maybe some dish and pictures next issue.

Another event that just happened is the 8th Annual RITA BOWL. This whacky fun-filled Friday night event is the hairbrain idea of Jeff W aka Rita, mixologist extraordinaire at The M & M Club. This year's turnout should be in the neighborhood of 300 bowlers (if you can call that bowling) and the proceeds are used to offset the cost of the Holiday Invitational Tournament, to be held Thanksgiving weekend, another weekend when Milwaukee is loaded with out-of-towners.

March 23, Mr. and Ms. Brew City Leather Contest, at B's, at 9 PM. A regional contest and official preliminary to the Mr. & Ms. Wisconsin Leather the same as the S.E. WIS contest held last spring.

B's, located at 1579 S 2nd, Milwaukee, has contestant entry forms available. You can call them at (414) 672-5580 or stop in and get more information and entry forms. According to B's owner, Bruce, the contestant entry fee is $25.00 and the cutoff is at 5 PM, the 23 at which time there will be contestant interviews. Vendor tables open at 7 PM.

This contest is produced by Ingenue Productions, aka Beth Kelly, Ms. Madison Leather 1995, and the owner of several regional & State title and/or contests. Included are Mr. & Ms. S.W. Wisconsin Leather, Mr. & Ms. Wisconsin Leather as well as Mr. Fantasy Wisconsin.

Word has reached me that the Mr. & Ms. Wisconsin Leather Contest is on this year. From what I could gather, it has been several years since it has been held.

Ms. Kelly caught up with me in as I was putting the finishing touches on this and added the following information. There will be the Wis. Mr. & Ms. contest in August. She currently working with Stacy (Mr. Rods) to do a NE Wis regional, hopes to pull a Central Wis and Madison contest off also. All of the above, including Brew City, are official preliminaries to the Wis title, and then to IML & IMSL.

In the event you need more info, contact Beth at (608) 223-0851

This seems to be the year for new and/or reactivated leather events. I got a flyer for the Midstate Regional Leather Competition and Leather Weekend in early August at the Midway Airport Hotel in Milwaukee. A three day affair with BDSM auction, a Formal Banquet Dinner and Leather Ball, a vendors mall, workshops on BDSM and the Midstate Regional Leather Competition. This event is not associated with the Ingenue Productions, rather Thundercloud Productions. Phone (414) 329-1523.

The flyer said this weekend is being resurrected. I am not familiar with its past and have requested more information. I'll keep you posted.

Sounds like a pretty full schedule if it all comes to pass. I wonder if someone is resurrecting the Drummer contest, or the Here's the Beef contest. That one was fun and full of hot male contestants.

Speaking of contests, the Sixth annual Daddy & Daddy's Boy weekend and contests, April 25 & 26 is coming up fast. The weekend, founded by the Argonauts was a one-nite daddy contest. One thing leading to another, it developed into a weekend that attracts the dyed in the wool heavy duty leather men and boys as well as the newcomers & the curious. The Argonauts of WI and the Castaways M.C. co-sponsor same.

Not sure why this event is so popular, with both the public and the number of contestants. Maybe enclosed picture will explain a bit why I am partial to the boy contest. Now, lest you think I and others are dirty old men preying on helpless lads, wrong!! The helpless young lads are at least twenty-one (I am still a dirty old man). See you at SWS Docks Friday, for the kick off party.

While on the subject of leather, boys and daddies, let's throw in boots and the video "Boot Therapy" which I had the chance to see. A film with real men, not actors, into heavy duty leather and boots and of

You Could Be the New Mr. Gay Wisconsin-USA

Four preliminary Mr. Gay Wisconsin-USA pageants are calendared, with a fifth in the works, according to producer Mark Mariucci of ZA's Productions and Quest.

"It's important to note that the new Mr. Gay Wisconsin-USA must have taken first or second place in a preliminary pageant to qualify for the finals. A contestant may enter prelims all over Wisconsin in his quest to win the prestigious title on Sat., June 21," Mariucci said.

Mariucci stressed that a great effort was made to conduct prelims in all geographical areas of the state, but encouraged contestants to enter any remaining prelim if they haven't won yet.

Preliminary pageants are scheduled as follows:

Sun., April 6 - Mr. Madison-USA, at Manoeuvres
Sat., April 19, Mr. & Miss Emerald City-USA, at ZA's Videobar, Green Bay
Sat., April 26 - Mr. Milwaukee-USA, at B's Bar
Sat., May 10 - Mr. Northwestern-USA, at The Trading Company, Eau Claire

A Mr. Southern pageant is tentatively planned for Kenosha's Club 94 in late May.

Mariucci stressed, "State preliminaries are open to all men at least 21 years of age who live in Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota or Illinois."

Cream City Foundation Takes Lead in PrideFest Sponsorship

The Cream City Foundation is the first sponsor to pledge support for the year's PrideFest celebration. Their $5,000 donation guarantees the return of Milwaukee's own history exhibit to the festival, and brings CCF's total contributions to PrideFest to nearly $37,000.

"The Cream City Foundation has been one of our most loyal sponsors," said PrideFest co-director Susan Cook. "CCF made it possible for this festival to get off the ground in the very beginning. This year, CCF is making it possible for the Milwaukee History Exhibit to be seen by thousands of visitors. Without that sponsorship, PrideFest would not have been able to bring back the exhibit."

'96 AIDS Walk Wisc. $$$ Distributed!

The 1997 AIDS Walk Wisconsin has been set for Sunday, Sept. 21.

course a "boy" type who worships all of the above. Worth the price of admission. The plot is typical porn and as always the dialogue should have been cut. If you are into this type of film, you can get it wholesale locally from the Wisconsin Boot Men.

A friend and admirer of Ray called asking if it was true that Ray was moving from the Triangle to the Boot Camp and if Si was now going to be open for cocktail hour. If what others have said is true (Si doesn't call me anymore), the word should be official by the time this issue of hits the bars.

The Boot Camp has been closed for cocktail hour since Robbie S. worked that shift. Back then, it was the place to be. I am sure it will be again.

See you there and I look forward to your always friendly service, hot guy.
